Art Unit: 2181

1. Claims 1-30 are presented for examination.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 8 and 16 recite the limitation "the prediction" in lines 3 and 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Claim 1, from which claim 8 depends, and claim 9, from which claim 16 depends, contain no prediction.

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-3, 6-7, 9-11, 14-15, are 17-19 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Park (Patent No. 6,988,190).

6. Note in relation to applicants' claims to "converting at least some of the instructions in a stream into ISA-implementation specific instructions", Park taught a decoded instruction trace cache which would have all of its instructions as ISA-implementation specific instructions (col. 4, lines 3-6).

7. Claims 1-2, 6-10, 14-18, 20-22, and 25-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Ramirez et al. (Fetching Instruction Streams).

Art Unit: 2181

8. The examiner would suggest applicants read Section 2.2, at a minimum, before responding.

9. Claims 1-2, 6-10, 14-18, 20-22, and 25-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Nair et al. (Exploiting Instruction Level Parallelism in Processors by Caching Scheduled Groups).

10. Claims 1-2, 4-10, 12-18, 20-22, and 24-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Nair (Patent No. 6,304,962).

11. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

12. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

13. Claims 3, 11, 19, 23, and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nair (Patent No. 6,304,962).

Art Unit: 2181

14. In relation to applicants' claims to having a start instruction pointer and end instruction pointer (claims 3, 11, 19, 23, and 30) which depend from applicants' claims 1-2, 9-10, 17-18, 20-22, and 27-29, Nair taught the functional equivalent which is a start instruction pointer and length field which when combined yield the end instruction pointer (col. 4, lines 31-51).

15. The examiner was surprised to find that applicants first three independent claims and most of their other two independent claims as well as much of the balance of applicants' dependent claims were directed to the basic concepts of instruction traces and trace cache design which long preceded applicants' filing. Were the concepts not so well-known the examiner might have spent more time on explaining the prior art.

16. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
